-----X
Plaintiffs, GABRIEL SIERRA, CESARA REYES, MARGARITO REDONDO, ROBERTO BONILLA, ZULMA ALVARENGA, WILSON GUEVARA,
YUMY PEREIRA VALASQUEZ, ROSA E. MANZANO, MICHAEL ROONEY,

NATURE OF ACTION

1. Plaintiffs allege on behalf of themselves and other similarly situated current and former employees, classified by Defendants as wait staff and other comparable positions with different titles, that they are: (i) entitled to unpaid statutory minimum wages, wages from Defendants for work for which they did not receive compensation for all of the hours worked by them, for overtime work for which they did not receive overtime premium pay as well as misappropriated tips and/or gratuities (pursuant to New York Labor Law §196-d) (as set forth by Samiento v. World Yacht, Inc., N.Y. Ct. of App., 2/14/08) and (ii) entitled to liquidated damages pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act ("FLSA"), 29 U.S.C. §§201 et seq.

2. Plaintiffs further complain, on behalf of themselves and other similarly situated current and former employees, that they are entitled to statutory minimum wages, back wages from Defendants for work for which they did not receive compensation for all of the hours worked by them as well as overtime work for which they did not receive overtime premium pay, spread of hours pay and uniform cleaning allowance, as required by New York Labor Law §§650 et seq., including Part 142, §142-2.2 ("Overtime Rate") of Title 12 of the Official Compilation of Codes, Rules and Regulations promulgated by the Commissioner of Labor pursuant to the Minimum Wage Act (Article 19 of the New York State Labor Law) and misappropriated tips and/or gratuities in violation of New York Labor Law §196-d.

23. Upon information and belief, Defendant, Cottage, owns and operates a restaurant and catering facility.

27. Upon information and belief, Defendant, Carriage House, has a principal place of business at 585 North Broadway, Jericho, New York, 11753, Nassau County in the State of New York.

28. Upon information and belief, Defendant, Bruce Murphy ("Murphy"), owns, operates and/or controls the day to day operations and management of Cottage and conducts business at 585 North Broadway, Jericho, New York, 11753 and jointly employed Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees at all relevant times.

29. Upon information and belief, Defendant, Owen Smith ("Smith"), owns, operates and/or controls the day to day operations and management of Cottage and conducts business at 585 North Broadway, Jericho, New York, 11753 and jointly employed Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees at all relevant times.

30. Upon information and belief, Defendant, Bruce Murphy, owns, operates and/or controls the day to day operations and management of Carriage House and conducts business at 585 North Broadway, Jericho, New York, 11753 and jointly employed Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees at all relevant times.

31. Upon information and belief, Defendant, Owen Smith, owns, operates and/or controls the day to day operations and management of Carriage House and conducts business at 585 North Broadway, Jericho, New York, 11753 and jointly employed Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees at all relevant times.

32. Upon information and belief, John Does #1-10 represent the officers, directors and/or managing agents of Defendants, whose identities are unknown at this time and who participated in the day-to-day operations of Defendants and acted intentionally and maliciously and are "employers" pursuant to the FLSA, 20 U.S.C. §203(d) and regulations promulgated thereunder, 29 C.F.R. §791.2, as well as the New York Labor Law Sec. 2 and the regulations thereunder and are jointly and severally liable with Defendants.

33. Upon information and belief, each Defendant is an enterprise engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce. Each Defendant is an enterprise because each performs its related activities for a common business purpose. Each Defendant is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, because, inter alia, each Defendant has employees that handle goods and materials that have been produced for and moved in commerce, and, upon information and belief, each Defendant's annual gross volume of business is at least $500,000.

34. Each Defendant, either directly or indirectly, has hired and fired Plaintiffs and other employees; controlled Plaintiffs' work schedule and conditions of employment; determined the rate and method of their payment; and kept at least some records regarding their employment.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

35. Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §207, Plaintiffs seek to prosecute their FLSA claims as a collective action on behalf of all persons who are or were formerly employed by Defendants at any time from February 30, 2003 through March 7, 2008 (the "Collective Action Period"), who were wait staff and other comparable positions with different titles and were non-exempt employees within the meaning of the FLSA and who received no compensation for all of the hours that they worked and/or minimum statutory wages and/or overtime at rates not less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for hours worked in excess of forty hours per workweek and/or did not receive tips and/or gratuities collected by Defendants for and on their behalf (the "Collective Action Members").

36. This collective action class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of that number are presently within the sole control of Defendants, upon information and belief, there are approximately 100 members of the Class during the Collective Action Period, most of whom would not be likely to file individual suits because they lack adequate financial resources, access to attorneys or knowledge of their claims.

37. Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Collective Action Members and have retained counsel that is experienced and competent in the fields of employment law and class action litigation. Plaintiffs have no interests that are contrary to or in conflict with those members of this collective action.

38. A collective action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, since joinder of all members is impracticable. Furthermore, inasmuch as the damages suffered by individual Collective Action Members may be relatively small, the expense and burden of individual litigation make it virtually impossible for the members of the collective action to individually seek redress for the wrongs done to them. There will be no difficulty in the management of this action as a collective action.

39. Questions of law and fact common to the members of the collective action predominate over questions that may affect only individual members because Defendants have acted on grounds generally applicable to all members. Among the common questions of law and fact common to Plaintiffs and other Collective Action Members are:

- a. whether Defendants employed the Collective Action Members within the meaning of the FLSA;
- b. what proof of hours worked is sufficient where the employer fails in its duty to maintain time records;
- c. whether Defendants failed to post or keep posted a notice explaining minimum and/or overtime pay rights provided by the FLSA in any area where Plaintiffs are employed, in violation of 29 C.F.R. § 516.4;
- d. whether Defendants failed to pay the Collective Action Members for all of the hours worked by them and/or the statutory minimum wage and/or overtime compensation for hours worked in excess of forty hours per workweek in violation of the FLSA and the regulations promulgated there under;

- e. whether Defendants improperly withheld tips and/or gratuities, in violation of 29 U.S.C. §203(m);
- f. whether Defendants required an improper tip sharing pool;
- g. whether Defendants' violations of the FLSA are willful as that term is used within the context of the FLSA;
- h. whether Defendants are liable for all damages claimed hereunder, including but not limited to compensatory, punitive and statutory damages, interest, costs and disbursements and attorneys' fees; and
- i. whether Defendants should be enjoined from such violations of the FLSA in the future.

40. Plaintiffs know of no difficulty that will be encountered in the management of this litigation that would preclude its maintenance as a collective action.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

41. Plaintiffs sue on their own behalf and on behalf of a class of persons under Rules 23(a), (b)(2) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

42. Plaintiffs bring their New York Labor Law claim on behalf of all persons who were employed by Defendants at any time from February 30, 2003 through March 7, 2008, in the State of New York (the "Class Period"), who were wait staff and other comparable positions with different titles and non-exempt employees within the meaning of the New York Labor Law and have not been paid for all of the hours worked by them and/or who have not been paid proper statutory minimum wages and/or overtime wages and/or who did not properly receive tips and/or gratuities and/or did not receive uniform allowance and/or spread of hours wages in violation of the New York Labor Law (the "Class").

43. The persons in the Class identified above are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of that number are presently within the sole control of Defendants, upon information and belief, there are approximately 100 members of Class during the Class Period.

44. The claims of Plaintiffs are typical of the claims of the Class, and a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy—particularly in the context of wage and hour litigation where individual plaintiffs lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit in federal court against Defendants.

45. Defendants have acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the class as a whole.

46. Plaintiffs are committed to pursuing this action and have retained competent counsel experienced in employment law and class action litigation.

47. Plaintiffs have the same interests in this matter as all other members of the class and Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the Class.

48. There are questions of law and fact common to the Class which predominate over any questions solely affecting the individual members of the Class, including but not limited to:

- a. whether Defendants employed the members of the Class within the meaning of the New York Labor Law;
- b. what proof of hours worked is sufficient where employers fail in their duty to maintain time and/or pay records;
- c. whether Defendants failed and/or refused to pay the members of the Class for all hours worked by them and/or statutory minimum wages and/or time and one-half for all hours worked in excess of forty hours per workweek and/or spread of hours pay and/or uniform cleaning allowance;
- d. whether Defendants withheld tips and/or gratuities within the meaning of the New York Labor Law in violation of New York Labor Law §196-d;
- e. whether Defendants requires members of the Class to participate in an improper tip sharing pool;
- f. whether Defendants failed to post the notice required by New York Labor Law §198-d;
- g. whether Defendants violated New York Labor Law §§ 191, 193 and/or 195;
- h. whether the individual Defendants participated in the day to day management of Defendant and are “joint employers” and liable to Plaintiffs;
- i. whether the Defendants’ actions, as alleged, were willful or with reckless disregard of the law;

- j. whether Defendants and Individual Defendants are liable to Plaintiffs for compensatory damages, interest, costs and disbursements and attorneys' fees;
- k. whether the Statute of Limitations should be estopped or tolled due to Defendants' statutory violations; and
- l. whether Defendants should be enjoined from such violations of the New York Labor Law in the future.

75. Upon information and belief, Defendants violated Labor Law §198-d by failing to post the notice related to gratuities and wage deductions as required by statute.

76. Plaintiffs' work was performed in the normal course of the Defendants' business and was integrated into the business of Defendants.

77. The work performed by Plaintiffs required little skill and no capital investment. Their duties did not include managerial responsibilities or the exercise of independent judgment.

78. Plaintiffs often worked in excess of 40 hours a week, yet Defendants willfully failed to pay Plaintiffs and other wait staff employees for all of the hours worked by them as well as statutory minimum wages, overtime compensation of one and one-half times their regular hourly rate and/or failed to remit to Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees tips and/or gratuities in violation of the FLSA and the supporting New York State Department of Labor Regulations.

79. Upon information and belief, it is Defendants' uniform policy and procedure not to pay compensation to Plaintiffs and other members of the class for all of the hours worked by them as well as statutory minimum wages, overtime compensation, spread of hours pay, an allowance for the cleaning of their uniforms and/or to fail to remit to Plaintiffs and other members of the class tips and/or gratuities.

80. Throughout the Class Period, Defendants have employed Plaintiffs and other individuals, like all of the Plaintiffs (the Collective Action Members/the Class) in positions that required little skill and no capital investment and their duties and responsibilities did not include any managerial responsibilities or the exercise of independent judgment. They do not have the authority to hire or fire other employees, and they are not responsible for making hiring and firing recommendations.

81. Such individuals have worked in excess of 40 hours a week, yet Defendants have likewise willfully failed to pay them for all of the hours worked by them as well as statutory minimum wages and/or overtime compensation of one and one-half times their regular hourly rate, spread of hours pay, uniform cleaning allowance and/or failed to remit to them tips and/or gratuities in violation of the FLSA and the supporting New York State Department of Labor Regulations. As stated, the exact number of such individuals is presently unknown, but within the sole knowledge of Defendants and can be ascertained through appropriate discovery.

82. Throughout all relevant time periods, upon information and belief, and during the course of Plaintiffs' own employment, while Defendants employed Plaintiffs and the Collective Action Members, Defendants failed to post or keep posted a notice explaining the minimum wage and overtime pay rights provided by the FLSA.
